

JUNIOR INDUSTRIAL DESIGNER

Job posting, full-time (m/f/d)
Location: Innsbruck/Vienna/remote

EBERWEIN develops and manufactures hardware products in the areas of Embedded & IoT, Audio, Medical, Sports and Automotive.

As specialist in design and serial production, we have been releasing mid and high-volume products for renowned future-oriented enterprises, predominantly in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, the UK and the U.S.

Scope of responsibilities

- Market and trend analysis
- Hand sketching and renditions of design concepts
- Analyse and define ergonomics and customer experiences
- CMF definition
- Creating 2D artwork
- Creating customer presentations (PowerPoint)

Basic professional profile

- Hold a degree in industrial design or similar with work experience
- Hand sketching, Photoshop, Illustrator, advanced skills in CAD (SolidWorks, Rhino)
- Creative person with a high interest in design, trends and lifestyle
- A deeper understanding in materials and manufacturing technologies
- Ability to work on projects independently and in a team
- Reliant and flexible with an international mindset
- A good command of English

Extended professional profile

- Current enrolment in a university program in engineering or business administration (part-time is acceptable)
- Experience in working with MS Project
- Design experience with Siemens NX

Our offer

- Work in an experienced and dynamic team with flat hierarchies
- Participation in the design of industry leaders' future products
- Challenging and interesting projects as well as corresponding career opportunities
- Yearly salary (before taxes) beginning at EUR 35,000. Depending on your extended professional profile, overpayment may be possible.

Application Please send your application to application@eberwein.at

When submitting your application, please add the following statement: "I hereby give EBERWEIN permission to store my data in accordance with GDPR 2018 until such time as I revoke it, and to use it for any future job applications."

Innsbruck, 4 November 2022